Hi Matt,

I got your voicemail.

That sounds good; however, I suggest you jump start this process by opening up a new notification in the CASGEM OS that covers the Alameda County portion of the Tracy subbasin by 7/21.

Add all of the information that you have available now into the notification, like subbasin portion shapefile, well IDs, construction info, etc...

Then by months end, when you finally upload the monitoring plan, the notification is set up and ready to go.

Give us a heads up when you start the new notification and upload any new information.

If you have any questions, please feel free to call Mark Souverville or myself.

Take care,

Chris

Hi Chris,

Following up on the voicemail message I left you earlier today, I'm confirming that Zone 7 Water Agency is working on a proposal for claiming the CASGEM Monitoring Entity role for the Alameda County portion of the Tracy Groundwater Basin. We have been coordinating with the Diablo Water District to the north, San Luis Delta Mendota Water Authority to the south, San Joaquin County Public Works to the West, and their CASGEM contributors in developing our proposal so that none of our claimed areas overlap. We plan to send you Zone 7's proposed CASGEM program for the small Alameda County portion of the Tracy Basin by the end of the month.

We are including this same information in our 2014 IRWM Drought Grant application. Please let me know if you need any additional information before we submit our proposal later this month.

Thanks,

Matt Katen
